Our free dental implant restoration course

Dental implants are becoming increasingly popular and our course will be of benefit to both you and your practice. It will enable you to offer your patients implant therapy and complete restorative work yourself.

The course will provide you with the necessary skills and knowledge of equipment to restore dental implants. You will gain a good understanding of the benefits and profitability to your practice when referring patients for implant treatment. You will also learn how to select and fit appropriate abutments for the best clinical results. Dentists will be provided with free implant accessories to the value of £100.

The course includes video demonstrations, lectures on the restorative procedure for replacing a single tooth and hands on practical exercises.

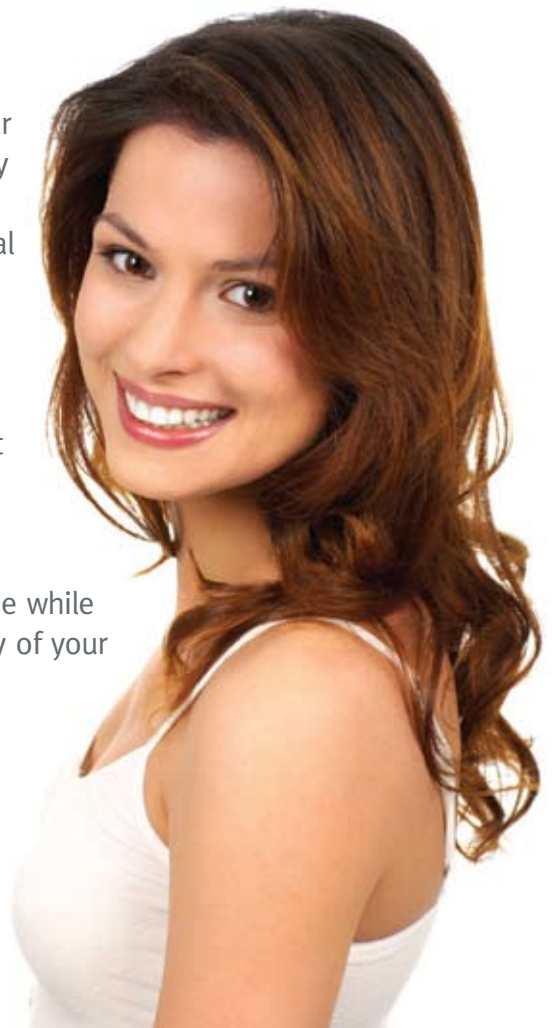

Program Philosophy

With the correct training, you will be able to diagnose and treat your prospective implant patients from start to finish as well as receiving multiple benefits from these exciting and challenging cases. Your responsibility is to expose your patients to possible treatment options and be comfortable helping your patients make an informed decision. This program provides an opportunity for you to enhance and expand your practice's horizon with financial rewards that will be equally matched by professional challenges that you will master. Alternatively, should you choose to work with a specialist, you will acquire the ability to participate at a new level of understanding resulting in positive benefits to your patients.

Course Objectives:

- Be equipped to incorporate implant procedures into your practice immediately following this practical and rational approach to treatment planning.
- Eliminate confusion surrounding implant restorations and related fear factors.
- Increase your income while elevating the quality of your practice.
- Study in a course designed specifically for General Practitioners.
